Former cop arrested in home-invasion quiz

By Art Petacque

Gerald Shallow, former Chicago police partner of murdered underworld figure Richard Cain, was arrested Tuesday. Police said he is a suspect in numerous home invasions in which the invader flashed a police star.

He was held on charges that include possession of a stolen car and unlawful use of a weapon. A stolen police star was found on him, police said.

Shallow, 50, frequently made headlines in the 1950s when he and Cain were vice squad investigators.

Cain later became chief deputy sheriff for Cook County, then joined organized crime forces. He was assassinated in 1973 in a Near West Side restaurant.

Shallow, separated from the police force in 1973, was arrested on a traffic charge at 87th and Cicero by Lt. James Keating, chief of the sheriff's organized crime squad, following a long surveillance.

Keating said Shallow was driving a late-model Cadillac that had been stolen. Shallow's old service revolver was found under a seat in the car, Keating added.

Shallow and Cain once were the department's best known team of vice detectives because of their penchant for making headlines.

SHALLOW TOLD SOURCE THAT THE UNSUB VICTIM LEFT HOME WITH MOTHER AND "KID" AND WAS FOLLOWED TO A SHOPPING CENTER IN INDIANAPOLIS. VICTIM CAME OUT OF SHOPPING CENTER BY HERSELF AND ENTERED HER CAR. FBI hopes lost 'cat' has more lives

The disappearance of a cat burglar has added a new and sinister element to the bizarre case of an alleged $1 million extortion attempt on the North Shore.

Missing is Joseph N. Basinski, 35, who was arrested Feb. 8 along with Joseph N. Pettit, 55, a middle-echelon crime syndicate gambling boss, after they allegedly demanded the $1 million during an invasion of a Northbrook home.

The FBI originally identified the extortion target only as a businessman. But he turns out to be Arthur L. Belkind, a Loop lawyer and former partner of controversy-prone attorneys Frank Oliver and Mitchell Caplan. Furthermore, Belkind was a business partner of Oliver and Caplan in Pegasus, the first of Chicago's notorious bet-messenger services.

Basinski, described by some sources as a cat burglar, became the object of a police hunt in May after he skipped two court hearings, and a warrant for his arrest was obtained by Assistant State's Attorney Daniel M. Locallo. A police bulletin identifies him as a home invader and says he should be considered "armed and dangerous."

Belkind said Basinski and Pettit held guns on him while demanding $1 million they thought he had hidden in his home. He said he promised to get them $20,000 to $30,000 later, then alerted the FBI. The two were arrested when they allegedly kept a date to pick up the cash at a Northbrook shopping center.

Asked if his former interest in Pegasus might have triggered the extortion scheme, Belkind said he has no idea. Such track betting operations were assailed as ripoff schemes, in some cases as being hoodlum-dominated, before they were shut down by court order. Belkind conceded that another lure might have been a story in a nationally circulated tabloid newspaper about a good samaritan youngster who returned $6,000 in a metal box he found in Belkind's shrubbery following an earlier break-in at the home.

BOTTOM LINE: Since Pettit has appeared for his court dates, investigators are puzzled by Basinski's vanishing act. But they're working on two theories: that he's the driver of a car running from the law—or a passenger in its trunk.

Re: Ronald Jarrett

Dear Mr. [Redacted]

The purpose of this communication is to express my concern for the delay on the part of you and your staff in pursuing the prosecution of Ronald Jarrett, a matter being handled by [Redacted]

As you are aware, Jarrett is a well known organized crime figure particularly as to his position under Angelo La Pietra, a member of the upper echelon of the Chicago La Cosa Nostra (LCN). Jarrett's position and reputation as a gangland killer, collector and thief certainly should make him worthy of some attention from your office. Currently investigations against [Redacted] and William "Butch" Petrocelli are pending and certainly a strong prosecutive posture assumed by your office against their associate Jarrett would assist in strengthening these matters for presentation to the Federal Grand Jury.

This delay not only diminishes the enthusiasm of Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation to continue their relationship with your office, but also impairs your credibility with the local prosecutors. Mr. [Redacted] your counterpart on the state level, is still looking for the results (promised by you) based on which his office made statements in Cook County Court to assist with the Federal prosecutions.

In summary, your office has had the results of the Jarrett investigation since June, 1980. Prior to this, one prosecutive memorandum had been prepared and was reviewed by your Deputy [redacted]. Based on his review, additional investigation was conducted the results furnished to your office. Since June, 1980, no further action has taken place. Re Chicago letter to the Bureau dated 5/23/80.

[redacted] FBI number [redacted] remains a Top Thief Target because of his known activity as a local Chicago area burglar, as well as his involvement in Burgmurs (Chicago file 183-394). The Burgmur investigation centers on the murders of five Chicago burglars and fences following the burglary of Chicago LCN Boss Anthony Accardo's home. Due to budgetary limitations, the Chicago Divisions Surveillance Squad has been unable to conduct the sophisticated physical surveillances necessary for the development of the case. Limited surveillance to establish a basic pattern regarding [redacted] is anticipated in the near future.

Ronald Jarrett, FBI number 114159E, was added to the Chicago Top Thief Program three months ago. The Chicago Division completed investigation and preparation of a prosecution memorandum seeking a grand jury indictment of Jarrett for violation of the Hobbs Act. At present, the Chicago Strike Force Attorney assigned to the matter has not forwarded the memorandum to the Justice Department. This matter has been taken up with the head of the Chicago Strike Force in an attempt to speed prosecution of Jarrett, who has important links to Chicago LCN figure Angelo LaPietra.

Ex-convict charged in tavern fire

RICHARD RANDAZZO, an ex-convict, was charged with arson Thursday in connection with the blast and fire, last Sunday that destroyed Smuggler's 1 Ltd. restaurant at 166 E. Grand Av.

Randazzo, 37, of 8431 S. Kean Av., Hickory Hills, was arrested Wednesday in the Loop as he stepped from his car to go to his attorney's office, according to John Hinchy, deputy chief of detectives.

Hinchy said Randazzo was charged after his photograph was identified by witnesses who saw him and a companion flee from the restaurant moments after the blast and drive off in a car.

Randazzo's companion, who witnesses said was shirtless and bleeding, is known to police and is being sought, Hinchy said. Randazzo, who told police he was a self-employed roofer, was sentenced to a federal reformatory in 1959 for the interstate transportation of a stolen auto, and also was arrested several years ago in connection with a stolen $5,000 organ, Hinchy said.

The operator of the Cadillac jumped out and confronted this Officer, asking why he was stopped? He was advised as to the reason by this Officer. The operator identified himself as [redacted] D.O.B. [redacted] of Walkerton, Indiana, with an Indiana Driver's License. [redacted] failed to produce a registration, but stated the car belongs to Highland Auto Sales, Polk County, Fla. and he is employed by them to drive cars back from auctions. [] stated the passenger is a hitchhiker he had just picked up.

[] went back to the auto(Cadillac), looked in the glove compartment, but could not produce any ownership papers. [] said again, the papers were in his room at Alpaugh's Motel and he pointed to the motel a block and a half to the north on Gulf Blvd.

Computer checks were run on the tag, [] and the serial number. Verification of ownership could not be made.

[] was observed making suspicious movements with his right hand in and around the front seat of the Cadillac.

[] quickly stopped the movements when he became aware of this Officer standing next to him. [] was removed and this Officer slid a hand under the seat and checked the armrest inside the flap and under it. No weapons were found.

[] was issued a citation for Failure to Produce a Vehicle Registration. The passenger had exited the Cadillac and requested to go to his and [] motel room at Alpaugh's, stating it's only a block away, pointing north, to retrieve the registration to save his friend [] from getting the citation. The passenger was told by this Officer to get back into the car and be patient. A few minutes later, the passenger was observed moving around inside the car, bending forward, looking back towards this Officer. The passenger was ordered out of the car and was patted down for weapons. This Officer then told the passenger to stand to the rear of the Cadillac, near [] This Officer noticed two (2) live rounds of .38 caliber ammunition. Then the passenger charged towards this Officer, twice, as the Officer attempted to seize the ammunition. Twice the passenger [] was told to return to the back of the Cadillac.

[] was observed making hand gestures to [] pointing at this Officer with one hand and forming his right hand into a shape to indicate a handgun.

This Officer slid a hand under the passenger side front seat, then lifted the armrest and observed a blue hands in front. [] was placed in the rear caged area of the patrol car. [] complained of a bad back and even showed a business card of a chiropractor on Indian Rocks Rd. in Largo, Florida. This Officer used plastic straps to secure [] hands in front. [] was placed in the front seat of the patrol car in order to keep him separated from []

This Officer returned to the suspect vehicle to conduct an inventory of the impounded vehicle, which was parked illegally. All of a sudden someone yelled and this Officer observed [] behind the steering wheel of the patrol car, in which the engine and overhead lights had been left on during this traffic stop. [] put the car in gear and started to accelerate. This Officer signalled [] to stop, by raising both of my hands. [] looked at this

Officer, eye contact was made. [] then turned the steering wheel of the car and aimed the speeding vehicle directb6 at this Officer, who had to jump back to keep from being struck by the patrol car. This Officer drew his serviceb7C revolver and fired one round at [] as he passed by, coming within a few feet of me. The bullet entered the right rear door. The patrol car continued northbound on Gulf Blvd. No more shots were fired because of the distance the vehicle had traveled and the oncoming traffic. A white pickup truck turned around and this Officer jumped in and pursued the escaping subjects. The patrol car was observed turning right on 22nd.Ave. and was found approximately seventy-five (75') feet north of 22nd.Ave. between Gulf Blvd. and 1st.St. under some large bushes. [] had fled on foot. [] was observed by this Officer hiding under a bush, approximately ten (10') feet from the patrol car.

[] was recaptured without incident. He and [] were taken to the Indian Rocks Bch. Police Dept.

The citizen, [] also came to the police department and gave a voluntary written statement, which Ronald Jarrett and his crew frequent a restaurant in Chinatown called the Kai Kai, 2218 South Wentworth, Chicago, Illinois. Jarrett usually uses the restaurant at approximately 2:00 a.m. or later and uses the back room. The back room can accommodate 12-15 people at tables and is separated from a main dining room by a wall with just one entryway on one side of the room. A person walking into the Kai Kai would not even be aware there is a back eating area. The Kai Kai is open 24-hours a day.

Two things struck the source as peculiar about the above described garage in addition to things previously mentioned. The inside of the garage was devoid of absolutely everything and there was not so much as a can or ladder inside. The garage also has four roof vents and the source commented that most homes do not even have that many.

PURPOSE OF FISUR

Jarrett has been identified as a top lieutenant for Chicago's southwest side LCN boss, Angelo La Pietra and is engaged in a myriad of criminal activity.

In order to maximize prosecutive efforts on Jarrett, Squad 2 has been conducting a joint investigation with the Cook County States Attorney's Office.

On 10/24/80, it is anticipated that Jarrett will be indicted by a Cook County Grand Jury for forcible rape and related charges. Cook County States Attorney Investigator [REDACTED] (retired Squad 2 SA) and Chicago PD Investigator [REDACTED] Area 6, assigned to the Cook County States Attorney's Office, have requested FBI assistance in regard to Jarrett's arrest.

It is expected that a Fisur will provide insight as to logical place and time for Jarrett's arrest.

It is also noted that on 10/30/80, Jarrett is expected to be indicted by a NDI Grand Jury for violation of Hobbs Act - Armed Robbery. Requested Fisur will also assist Squad 2 SA's in this arrest.

Mob figure indicted in kidnaping, rape

By Lynn Emmerman

RONALD JARRETT, a reputed organized-crime figure, was being held by police early Saturday following his indictment by a Cook County grand jury on rape and kidnaping charges, police said.

Jarrett, 36, of 3004 S. Lowe Av., a convicted burglar and thief whom police described as the "right-hand man" of reputed crime syndicate chieftain Angelo LaPietra, was charged in the indictment with kidnaping a 30-year-old woman from a tavern parking lot in Oak Lawn Sept. 10, taking her to a South Side waterbed store, and raping her.

Carl Gallione, 31, owner of Illinois Fork Lift, 900 W. 31st St., was also indicted by the grand jury Friday in connection with the attack, police said.

Both men were arrested late Friday after the indictments were returned charging them with rape, aggravated kidnaping, and deviate sexual assault.

AT THE TIME of his arrest, Jarrett, who is a suspect in a jewel heist and a series of burglaries at Chicago-area food stores, told police that he is an employee of the city's Department of Streets and Sanitation.

S. Side man indicted in $38,000 theft

By Bonita Brodt
and Jay Branegan

RONALD JARRETT, 36, a reputed crime syndicate figure with a long arrest record, was indicted by a federal grand jury Wednesday in connection with a $38,000 robbery of an Oak Lawn jewelry store in 1977.

The grand jury charged that Jarrett, of 3004 S. Lowe Av., violated the federal Hobbs Act which makes it a crime to interfere with interstate commerce.

The loot from the robbery included not only cash but gems that came from outside Illinois and thus were considered part of interstate commerce.

Jarrett, who has been described by Chicago police as the "right-hand man" to Angelo LaPietra, a crime syndicate chief-tain, was indicted by the federal grand jury on the same day that he was arraigned in Cook County Criminal court on kidnaping and rape charges.

JARRETT AND Carl Gallione, 31, owner of Illinois Fork Lift, 900 W. 31st St., were both indicted by a county grand jury last week on charges of kidnaping and raping a 30-year-old woman on Sept. 10.

After the two were arraigned Wednesday, Judge Joseph Urso set bond for each at $750,000.

At 4:10 p.m., a 1970-1972 black over light green, two door hard top, Buick Skylark, without license plates, parked east of and parallel to the alley east of Interstate Lift Truck, 900 West 31st Street, Chicago.

Two white males exited the Buick Skylark. The driver was about five feet five to five feet six inches tall, 180 pounds, wearing a hat with a button down visor. He removed from the rear seat area of the car, what appeared to be a slave cable.

The passenger was about five feet-eight to five feet ten inches tall and about 160 to 170 pounds. He removed a red metal tool box from the rear seat area of the car.

Both individuals went directly inside the building at 900 West 31st Street and remained there until 4:40 p.m. at which time they came out of the building and looked around for a few seconds. They then started walking west on West 31st Street.

At approximately 4:45 p.m., Special Agents (SAs) [redacted] heard over the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) radio that Ronald Jarrett's arrest was being affected following SA [redacted] transmission over the radio that Jarrett had exited the building. SAs [redacted] immediately drove the FBI vehicle that they were in to a position about forty feet west of the entrance to Interstate Lift Truck and they exited the vehicle and walked back to the above described Buick Skylark and observed a yellow sticker in the right hand portion of the windshield which contained the following information:

Dear Sir:

In connection with an official investigation, it has become extremely important that the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) verify an incident wherein a James A. Palaggi, date of birth (DOB) July 27, 1951, allegedly received emergency room treatment at a hospital on 95th Street - possibly, Christ Community Hospital in Oak Lawn Illinois, in 1976 or 1977.

Palaggi was allegedly stabbed twelve times with an ice pick and was placed in the intensive care unit following his emergency room treatment. Palaggi eventually survived this stabbing and was shortly thereafter released.

Preliminary investigation at Christ Community Hospital has failed to locate a record for this incident. Subsequent to this incident, Palaggi fell victim to a homicide. Since Palaggi has been known to utilize aliases, it is quite understandable that Palaggi utilized an alias upon admittance into the hospital.

To insure a complete investigation in this matter, I am requesting that your hospital review available emergency room records in an attempt to verify if this incident possibly took place at Little Company of Mary Hospital. I am also enclosing a photograph of Palaggi for you to display to your personnel in an attempt to verify this above incident.

In connection with an official investigation, it has become extremely important that the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) verify an incident wherein a James A. Palaggi, Date of birth July 27, 1951, allegedly received emergency room treatment at Christ Community Hospital for multiple stab wounds in 1976 or 1977.

Palaggi was allegedly stabbed twelve times with an ice pick and was placed in the intensive care unit following his emergency room treatment. Palaggi eventually survived this stabbing and was shortly thereafter released.

A preliminary check at Christ Community Hospital has failed to locate any record for Palaggi. Since Palaggi had been known to utilize aliases, it is quite understandable that he utilized an alias upon his admittance into your hospital.

In order to insure a complete investigation into this matter, I am requesting that your office review the emergency room log book regarding treatment. I am also enclosing a photograph of Palaggi for you to display to your personnel in an attempt to possibly verify this incident.

Once this incident is verified by your hospital, an FBI Special Agent (SA) will present an appropriate subpoena to obtain the available records. It is also noted that subsequent to Palaggi's successful medical treatment at your hospital, he since fell victim to a homicide.

Your cooperation in this endeavor will be extremely appreciated.

U.S. probe of Sen. Cannon ends

By Art Petacque

The Justice Department has completed a lengthy investigation of Sen. Howard W. Cannon (D-Nev.) without seeking to indict him, it was learned Thursday.

The department, under instructions from Attorney General Benjamin Civiletti and the department's criminal division, notified the Senate Ethics Committee and Cannon's Washington lawyer, John M. Dowd, that Cannon no longer is under investigation by a federal grand jury in Chicago.

Dowd, speaking on behalf of Cannon, said, "Justice was done after this protracted investigation."

Cannon's name first surfaced last February in a federal investigation of organized crime and the Chicago-based Teamsters Central States Pension Fund.

The senator, chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee and a ranking member of the Armed Services Committee, testified here last April before the grand jury. He reportedly denied at that time that he'd had any dealings with the scandal-scarred fund.

Sources said Cannon also testified that he had met with former pension fund consultant Allen Dorfman last year because Cannon and other Las Vegas residents wanted to persuade the pension fund not to build a high-rise structure on 5.8 acres near their property. Dorfman is a Chicago insurance executive who served a prison term for receiving kickbacks on loans made by the pension fund.

Dorfman reportedly remains a principal target of the investigation. Another principal in the investigation reportedly is Allen Glick, who has been described by federal investigators as the front man for the Chicago crime syndicate's chief representative in Las Vegas, Anthony Spilotro.

Mob driver guilty in heist

By Maurice Possley

Ronald Jarrett, chauffeur for reputed crime syndicate boss Angelo La Pietra, was convicted Thursday in U.S. District Court of the 1977 holdup of an Oak Lawn jewelry store.

A jury deliberated for 20 minutes before returning the verdict on the federal robbery charge. U.S. District Judge Bernard M. Decker set sentencing for Feb. 17. Jarrett, 36, faces a maximum of 25 years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

Jarrett, of 3004 S. Lowe, was the lookout man during the Dec. 15, 1977, armed robbery of Alfred's Orange Blossom Jewelers, 9530 S. Cicero, Oak Lawn, according to testimony.

A total of $38,000 in diamonds and cash was taken in the robbery and has not been recovered.

The key witnesses against Jarrett were Ronald Brown and David Willis, who participated in the holdup and are now under the federal Witness Protection Program, according to prosecuting attorney S. Gay Hugo.

Re Chicago letter to Bureau dated 8/28/80.

Ronald Jarrett, FBI Number 114159E, who was added to the Chicago TTF Program three months ago, was the subject of a Federal Hobbs Act - Armed Robbery indictment in October, 1980. Jarrett's trial in U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Illinois commenced December 16, 1980. A brief trial is expected. Jarrett is a well known Chicago area burglar and armed robber, as well as a direct subordinate of Chicago LCN member Angelo LaPietra. Jarrett has been involved in LaPietra's gambling and loan sharking enterprises. Jarrett also faces a local rape charge.

The Chicago Division is presently engaged in deep briefing to cooperating subjects, whose information will form the basis for a RICO - Armed Robbery indictment of [redacted] FBI Number [redacted] has long conducted armed robberies and burglaries as well as organizing crews for such activities in the Chicago area and elsewhere. He is reported to have LCN ties as well as substantial local political and police connections. Because of the volume of information being presently obtained, as well as the sensitivity of the sources (cooperating subjects), it is anticipated that this case will take several months to complete. It also appears likely, however, that additional local cases and cooperating subjects may be developed as this matter progresses.

For the information of the Latent Fingerprint Section, subject Ronald W. Jarrett, FBI #114159E and [REDACTED] DOB, [REDACTED] were arrested by Bureau Agents, and officers of the Chicago Police Department on 10/24/80, for Rape, Aggravated Kidnapping, Deviate Sexual Assault and Unlawful Restraint. Jarrett, an alledged LCN member and notorious Chicago hoodlum with over 70 arrests, was convicted in Federal Court on 12/19/80, for violation of Title 18, USC, Section 1951, Hobbs Act - Armed Robbery. At the time of arrest on October 24, 1980, Jarrett was driving a 1971 Buick bearing a bogus 1980 Illinois Temporary Registration Permit #6191256, enclosed. Since Jarretts modus operandi when carrying out illegal activities in the past has been to utilize illegally registered vehicles, conclusive proof of this would be of extreme importance in any future State and Federal prosecutions.

Mob driver guilty in heist

By Maurice Possley

Ronald Jarrett, chauffeur for reputed crime syndicate boss Angelo La Pietra, was convicted Thursday in U.S. District Court of the 1977 holdup of an Oak Lawn jewelry store.

A jury deliberated for 20 minutes before returning the verdict on the federal robbery charge. U.S. District Judge Bernard M. Decker set sentencing for Feb. 17. Jarrett, 36, faces a maximum of 25 years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

Jarrett, of 3004 S. Lowe, was the lookout man during the Dec. 15, 1977, armed robbery of Alfred's Orange Blossom Jewelers, 9530 S. Cicero, Oak Lawn, according to testimony.

A total of $38,000 in diamonds and cash was taken in the robbery and has not been recovered.

The key witnesses against Jarrett were Ronald Brown and David Willis, who participated in the holdup and are now under the federal Witness Protection Program, according to prosecuting attorney S. Gay Hugo.

1Date of transcription 12/15/80

On December 12, 1980, Special Agents [] and [] established a physical surveillance (FISUR) at [] Chicago, Illinois at 9:15 a.m.

At 9:15 a.m. a black over red Dodge bearing 1980 Illinois license plate number [] was parked directly in front of [] and was facing west.

At 10:42 a.m. a white female exited the building at [] and entered the black over red Dodge. The female drove the vehicle west on 31st Street to Troop, and executed a U-turn at this point and began heading east on 31st Street to 31st and Princeton, where she exited the auto and entered one of the buildings in that vicinity at 10:46 a.m. Surveilling Agents were unable to determine exact building into which she entered because of traffic.

At 11:00 a.m. the female and a companion exited one of the buildings in the vicinity of 31st and Princeton, entered the automobile and proceeded west on 31st Street. The vehicle then proceeded on a circuitous route to the area of the Hilton Hotel, on Michigan Avenue, in Chicago, Illinois, where the companion exited the automobile.

The female then drove a very circuitous route through the city, utilizing one way streets and many turns until approximately 11:21 a.m., at which time the visual observation by the surveilling Agents was lost.

Surveilling Agents disembarked from their vehicles and made a check of the parking lots and streets in the immediate area where the vehicle was last seen, however, the black over red Dodge was not seen again.

The surveillance was terminated at 11:45 a.m.

Dear Sir:

The FBI is currently conducting a preliminary investigation into a series of burglaries and robberies which occurred within the last ten years. Results of this investigation will be used in a Dangerous Special Offender Petition hearing regarding Ronald W. Jarrett at the U.S. District Court, Northern District of Illinois on February 17, 1981.

One aspect of this investigation is to interview some of the police officers who prepared the investigative reports relative to these crimes.

Realizing that many of these police officers are no longer in these assignments, it would greatly facilitate the FBI's investigation if your office could furnish an updated personnel assignment list.

Under separate cover, is a list of Chicago Police Department officers that may be interviewed by the FBI in this regard.

Very truly yours,
